As a global consulting firm, we help our clients to reduce their emissions, but we also assess and reduce our own energy and greenhouse gas emissions. Guidehouse is committed to the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) and has agreed to set emissions reduction targets in line with climate science and the ambitions of the Paris Agreement. In addition, and in line with our mission to “solve big problems, build trust in society and empower our clients to shape the future”, we have initiated large, international partnerships in different sectors to accelerate climate impact.

Guidehouse is reducing business travel by 25% over the next three years and promote public transport access for all employees. In the Netherlands, we do not provide company vehicles, but an NS Business Card and employees can receive a contribution for the cost of a lease bicycle.

Guidehouse has active local Green Teams, consisting of volunteers who initiate and facilitate climate-related initiatives. In the Netherlands, the Green Team initiated an “all vegetarian” policy for corporate events and will develop a curriculum for schools around Utrecht on energy and sustainability.

Guidehouse plays a leading role in initiating and leading several global partnerships, including the European Hydrogen Backbone, the Partnership for Carbon Accounting Financials, and the Supplier Leadership on Climate Transition. Through these initiatives, Guidehouse is accelerating the transition to a sustainable future.
